

Hi All,

So FOBS has its own website now!

www.pta-events.co.uk/friendsofbunnyschool

Before you can login you will need to register which is super easy.

All content is hidden for safeguarding. So you will need to register to gain access.

If you could agree to our newsletter when you sign up that would be appreciated as it's the intention to use this site to send out FOBS newsletters going forward.

It also shows what's on, allows you to buy tickets for events and also has a section you can volunteer to help.

Whilst we haven't got all the features working yet - the above does! We will release all the other cool features in due course...

So please use it to book your Valentine's tickets and volunteer.

Once you log in the events should be on your home page. Select the number of tickets you want and then add to basket. The system will guide you the rest of the way. You will be asked to add on a few optional charges for using the site (it's free until a ticket sale) and for the payment fee. If you agree the costs are passed to you. If you don't FOBS pays for these.

If you scroll down on the home page you will find the volunteers section. Click on where you wish to help and it updates our list. If you have done it right, you should get a confirmation email.

Please let us know if you have any problems

Cat & Emily